AIC'S FACULTY DO MORE THAN 'TEACH'. THEY LISTEN, PROVOKE AND CHALLENGE

Future Proof Learning

Course Overview

As the school leader, all principals want their teachers to be great teachers who are highly motivated. An engaging teacher has tremendous impact on the children's learning. With happy kids learning, parents will naturally be pleased. Great teachers thus make a principal's job easier. But not every teacher who loves to teach is enthusiastic and dedicated for the job of a childcare teacher can be both demanding and challenging!

This one-day workshop explores ways in which the school leaders can build strong connection with and engage their key partners to provide a positive working climate as well as grow the teachers through developing teacher-leadership to enhance teacher effectiveness.

Learning Outcomes

The aims of the course are to help participants to:

- Understand how motivation works and know what truly matters to the teachers
- Understand the key principles of engagement and learn how to connect with the teachers more effectively to enhance their performance
- Create a climate of shared accountability through shared leadership
